Bubbles

By Heather Duffy

Bubbles are cool to play with because you can eat them. They are made out of soap. You can swing on a swing and let the wind blow the BUBBLES. It's really cool! I'd also like to dedicate this to Andy Butts.

Spirit

By Nikki Markow

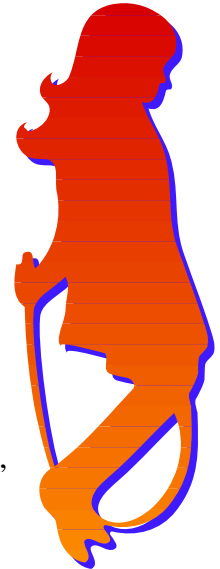

Spirit is when you're...

Playing in a tennis match
Running in the Track Meet
Making a cookie batch or
Making your trunk all neat

Setting the table with a friend
Laughing 'till you cry
Never wanting it to end
Never wanting to say "goodbye"

Walking in the pale moonlight
From a dance that was the bomb
Putting my bug net up nice and tight
And then, finally reading the Tom Tom

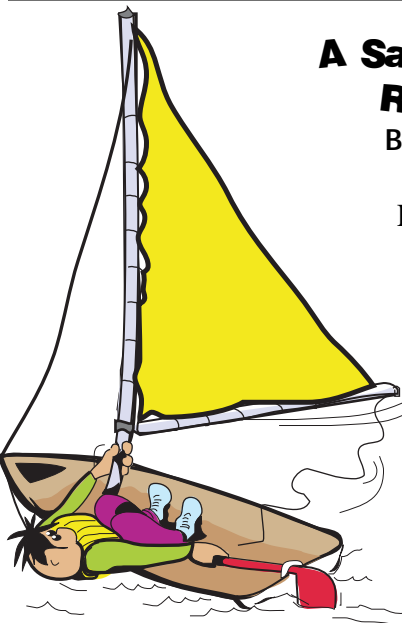

And then the last day is here
Packing up and having our last moments of fun
The moment when we get in our cars is near
Them bug bites, we'll get none

A Sailboat Returns...

By Erkki Oman

Last week, after many years in storage, one of the Camp's old 420 sailboats finally sailed again. This was possible after "Sir" Peter and a select group of campers ordered new parts, fixed old ones, and attached them to the boat.

Paint and trim work are still being done, and one day the boat will be added to Adirondack's current fleet of sailboats for general use. There are currently four more 420's in storage at the top of the hill. Hopefully they will be refurbished and added to the sailboat fleet as well!

But the memories, they will never leave
Those secrets we shared
The letters we received
Those hairstyles we wore

And now I'm going.
The moment I've been dreading's near
But I leave with a smile knowing
I'll be back next year
